Re: Retiree Health Care

September 7, 2023

Dear Speaker Adams and City Council Members:

We write to you as former NYC union officials who had the privilege of representing NYC employees who now need your help. During our years of service in our unions, we worked hard to ensure our future health and pension benefits were protected. As you know, the City is attempting to force all Medicare-eligible retirees into a for-profit managed care plan. Five court decisions have already ruled in our favor telling the City that what they are attempting to do is illegal. Absent legislation from City Council, the City will keep trying to reduce retiree healthcare benefits.

The Municipal Labor Committee (MLC) and others are being less than truthful in telling you that supporting Intro 1099-2023 is an attack on collective bargaining. We strongly disagree with that statement. As former labor officials, we have the utmost respect for collective bargaining. However, collective bargaining cannot conflict with federal, state or municipal laws and retirees cannot bargain. Very simply, the Taylor law specifically prohibits unions – or the MLC, from bargaining for retired employees.

The NY State Legislature has repeatedly passed laws – principally through the NY State Labor Law – protect workers' health and safety. Similarly, the NYC City Council has repeatedly passed laws that protect workers – and the best example is Administrative Law §12-126 which guarantees that workers, retirees, and their dependents' health insurance will be paid for by the City. The protections of these laws cannot be diminished through collective bargaining. They provide a "floor" of protection that collective bargaining can only build upon, not diminish.

Similarly, Medicare is guaranteed by federal legislation created in 1965 and signed into law by President Lyndon Johnson. Our retired members paid into Medicare their entire career with a guarantee from the Government that they would have access to Medicare in their golden years when they had limited incomes. Medicare, like Social Security, is not just an entitlement but a benefit paid by our members to protect them and provide access to health care in their golden years. The City made that same promise to us during our tenure.

As you know, unions certainly have the right to bargain for current employees who will become future retirees. But in no way would any of us negotiate for current retirees, because that is illegal. The City's plan now is to force our retirees into an inferior for-profit, healthcare plan managed by Aetna. That plan denies our members the right to see any Medicare provider and forces them to get approvals from a for-profit healthcare management system. Ask yourself a simple question: how does Aetna generate a profit from a government-run health care system? The answer is simple: on the backs of our retirees, by denying them access to procedures and tests without their approval. At a time when many progressive politicians are supporting Medicare for all, NYC wants to deny retired NYC employees' access to Medicare without the approval of a for-profit, healthcare manager. It is simply wrong and violates the promises made to them.

Retired NYC employees dedicated themselves to serving our great City, they kept us safe, educated our children, provided medical care, kept our streets clean and provided a host of other essential services to the citizens of New York City. We now need your support to protect our Medicare that was promised and guaranteed.

PLEASE HELP THEM AND SUPPORT INTRO 1099-2023.

Respectfully,

Former Union Officials
